The Committee of the Weaver Trade that were appointed to settle with Joint Stock Company met this evening in Mr. Morris's, with a deputation of their Number to canvass a difference of opinion respecting a Clause in their Disposition to the property fued to them by this Trade. After a good deal of reasoning showing the reasonableness of a Double fee every Twenty seven Years, we parted without being able to convince them of the justice thereof - But in point of honour as we had given them the invitation we defrayed the expenses incurred.

In consequence of a proposition Made by some Members of the Joint Stock Committee we again Met ^{on the 9th Evening} when it was proposed that the men of Business on both sides should be present. It was also agreed by both ^{at} that no proposition that might be made by either, that meeting should be binding unless approved of by their respective Constituents. Mr. Mitchell our man of business attended, there was not present - After a good deal of Altercation and sundry propositions, it was at last proposed by our Committee - That if the Joint Stock Company would full fill every part of our engagements we had come under to the three Miss Patullo's - Respecting a well and pay Ten ^{challenges every} Twenty Seven, Years as an acknowledgments of the Weaver Trade as their Superiors - we had little doubt but they would dispense with the double fee. they require paying the Expenses of a New Disposition - which several motions - the Committee of the Joint Stock Company agreed to lay before their Constituents - and we should be informed of the result -

The above Correspondance is attested John Audie Deacon him that this Incorporation had given such a the esteem in which they held his services.

He would only say that he had laid it down as a principle which he had always acted upon and which he was resolved still to adhere that he would accept of no Office in Society without laying his Account to attend both to the duties and interests thereof. They could not now expect that he could be long able to give his services to them in this capacity but he would assure him that after the handsome Manner they had they had treated him he felt himself under obligations of gratitude to continue his labours and to promote the Interests of this Incorporation while Providence should enable him so to do - Mean time I most 19 Sept 1838.

A General meeting of the Trade was held this Evening in Mr Woods S. Clements Lane at 8 O'clock Deacon Jack in the Chair

The Deacon mentioned that he had called this meeting in consequence of what passed at the General Meeting of the Trades on the Evening of Monday last in regard to the proposal of the Eastern Bank of Scotland for an extension of the lease of the Hall to take their opinion first in regard to the extension of the Lease second in regard to the rent which might with propriety be asked for the Hall and thirdly as to their opinion in regard to the rent of the private room belonging to the Trade whether they should resolve to abide by the rent already asked for the present lease or what rise they would expect in the event of a general rise of rent to the Bank The meeting resolved that they had no objections to the extension of the Lease for the term required (say to Whitsunday 1848) and think that a rent of about £150 might be considered a fair rent for the Hall Rooms commencing as from Whitlast, but without tying down the Deacons to any particular sum - And in regard to the rent to be asked for the private room they leave it in the power of the Deacons & assessors to act according to circumstances, either to abide by the present rent or to vote for an equalization or for a small additional equalized rent corresponding to the general rise of the whole rent as may be decided upon by the majority of the Trades -

197
